

I'm afraid of vaccines.

Engagement

I'm so glad the mom shared her fears with me; it's normal to be wary of the unknown! I can show her all the ways to reduce pain and anxiety before, during and after, so she can choose what works best for her.

Humility

I'm fortunate to have this kind of relationship with the people who come to see me. I'm glad they can talk to me openly like this.

I've heard that vaccines can be harmful and cause illness, and I feel like this information is true.

I think the natural immune system is better than vaccines. That's what I've been told, and I believe it.

Humility

When someone asks me questions about vaccination, I feel privileged that they trust me. I feel that they respect my knowledge.

Empowerment

It makes me happy when someone comes to me to ask for information like this. It shows they want the best for their child and want to be well informed. I'm here to guide the decision-making, but it will always be the person's decision, and I will respect it no matter what.

Self-determination

I'm hesitant because I'm worried about side effects.

Collaboration

From your perspective, how would you like to manage these effects, based on what you already know?

I don't know what to decide.
I'm feeling really torn.

I can see how hard this decision is, and I truly want to support you through it.

Engagement

Together, we can take this journey step by step.
Would you like to meet with an Elder you know to talk about this?
